As a former school teacher, she learned patience and flexibility. She is fair but firm. She is practical. She understands that the judicial system has limited funding. She wants your tax dollars spent wisely.

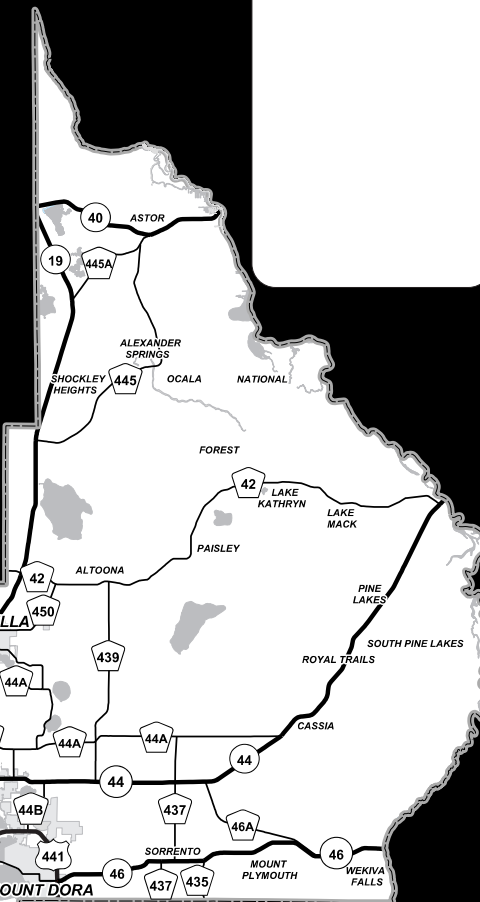

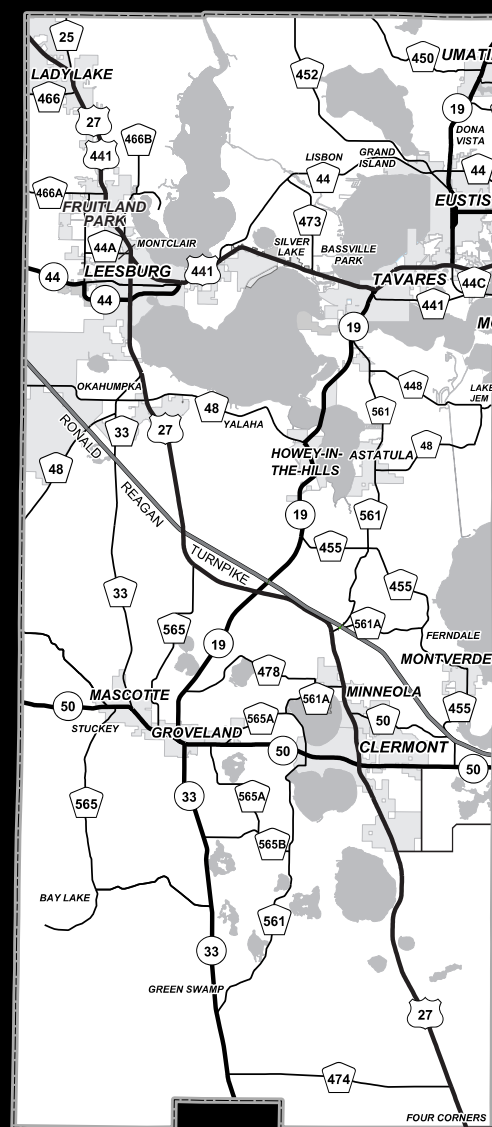

Judge Miller has seen the court system from the law enforcement side when she was a Sheriff's attorney. She saw the court system from the defendant's side as an Assistant Public Defender. She saw it from the victim's side when she was assaulted as a teacher and when her stepson was kidnaped at gunpoint, beaten and robbed. She has seen it from the bench for 15 1/2 years.

As a judge, she has seen some evil people who have done evil things. She has seen good people who have made a mistake and many people who fall in-between. She tries to help people change when she can, sometimes by creative sentencing. Sometimes punishment is required. She tries to use her power as she should, not because she can.

Judge Miller, age 62, is married to Jim Miller, commercial Realtor, civic leader, and volunteer. They have raised two sons, Andy and Bill. The Millers have 2 dogs and 2 cats.
